As we move forward in time
we begin to see the signs all around us
It is coming,
A new epoch that will take us where we need to go Beyond our present limits, furthering our horizons to a point never before thought feasible by the average mind.
It is a world of never ending possibilities,
a world ready to fulfill the wonders of our imaginations.
The age of technology is here and it is waiting for us to realize its' existence.

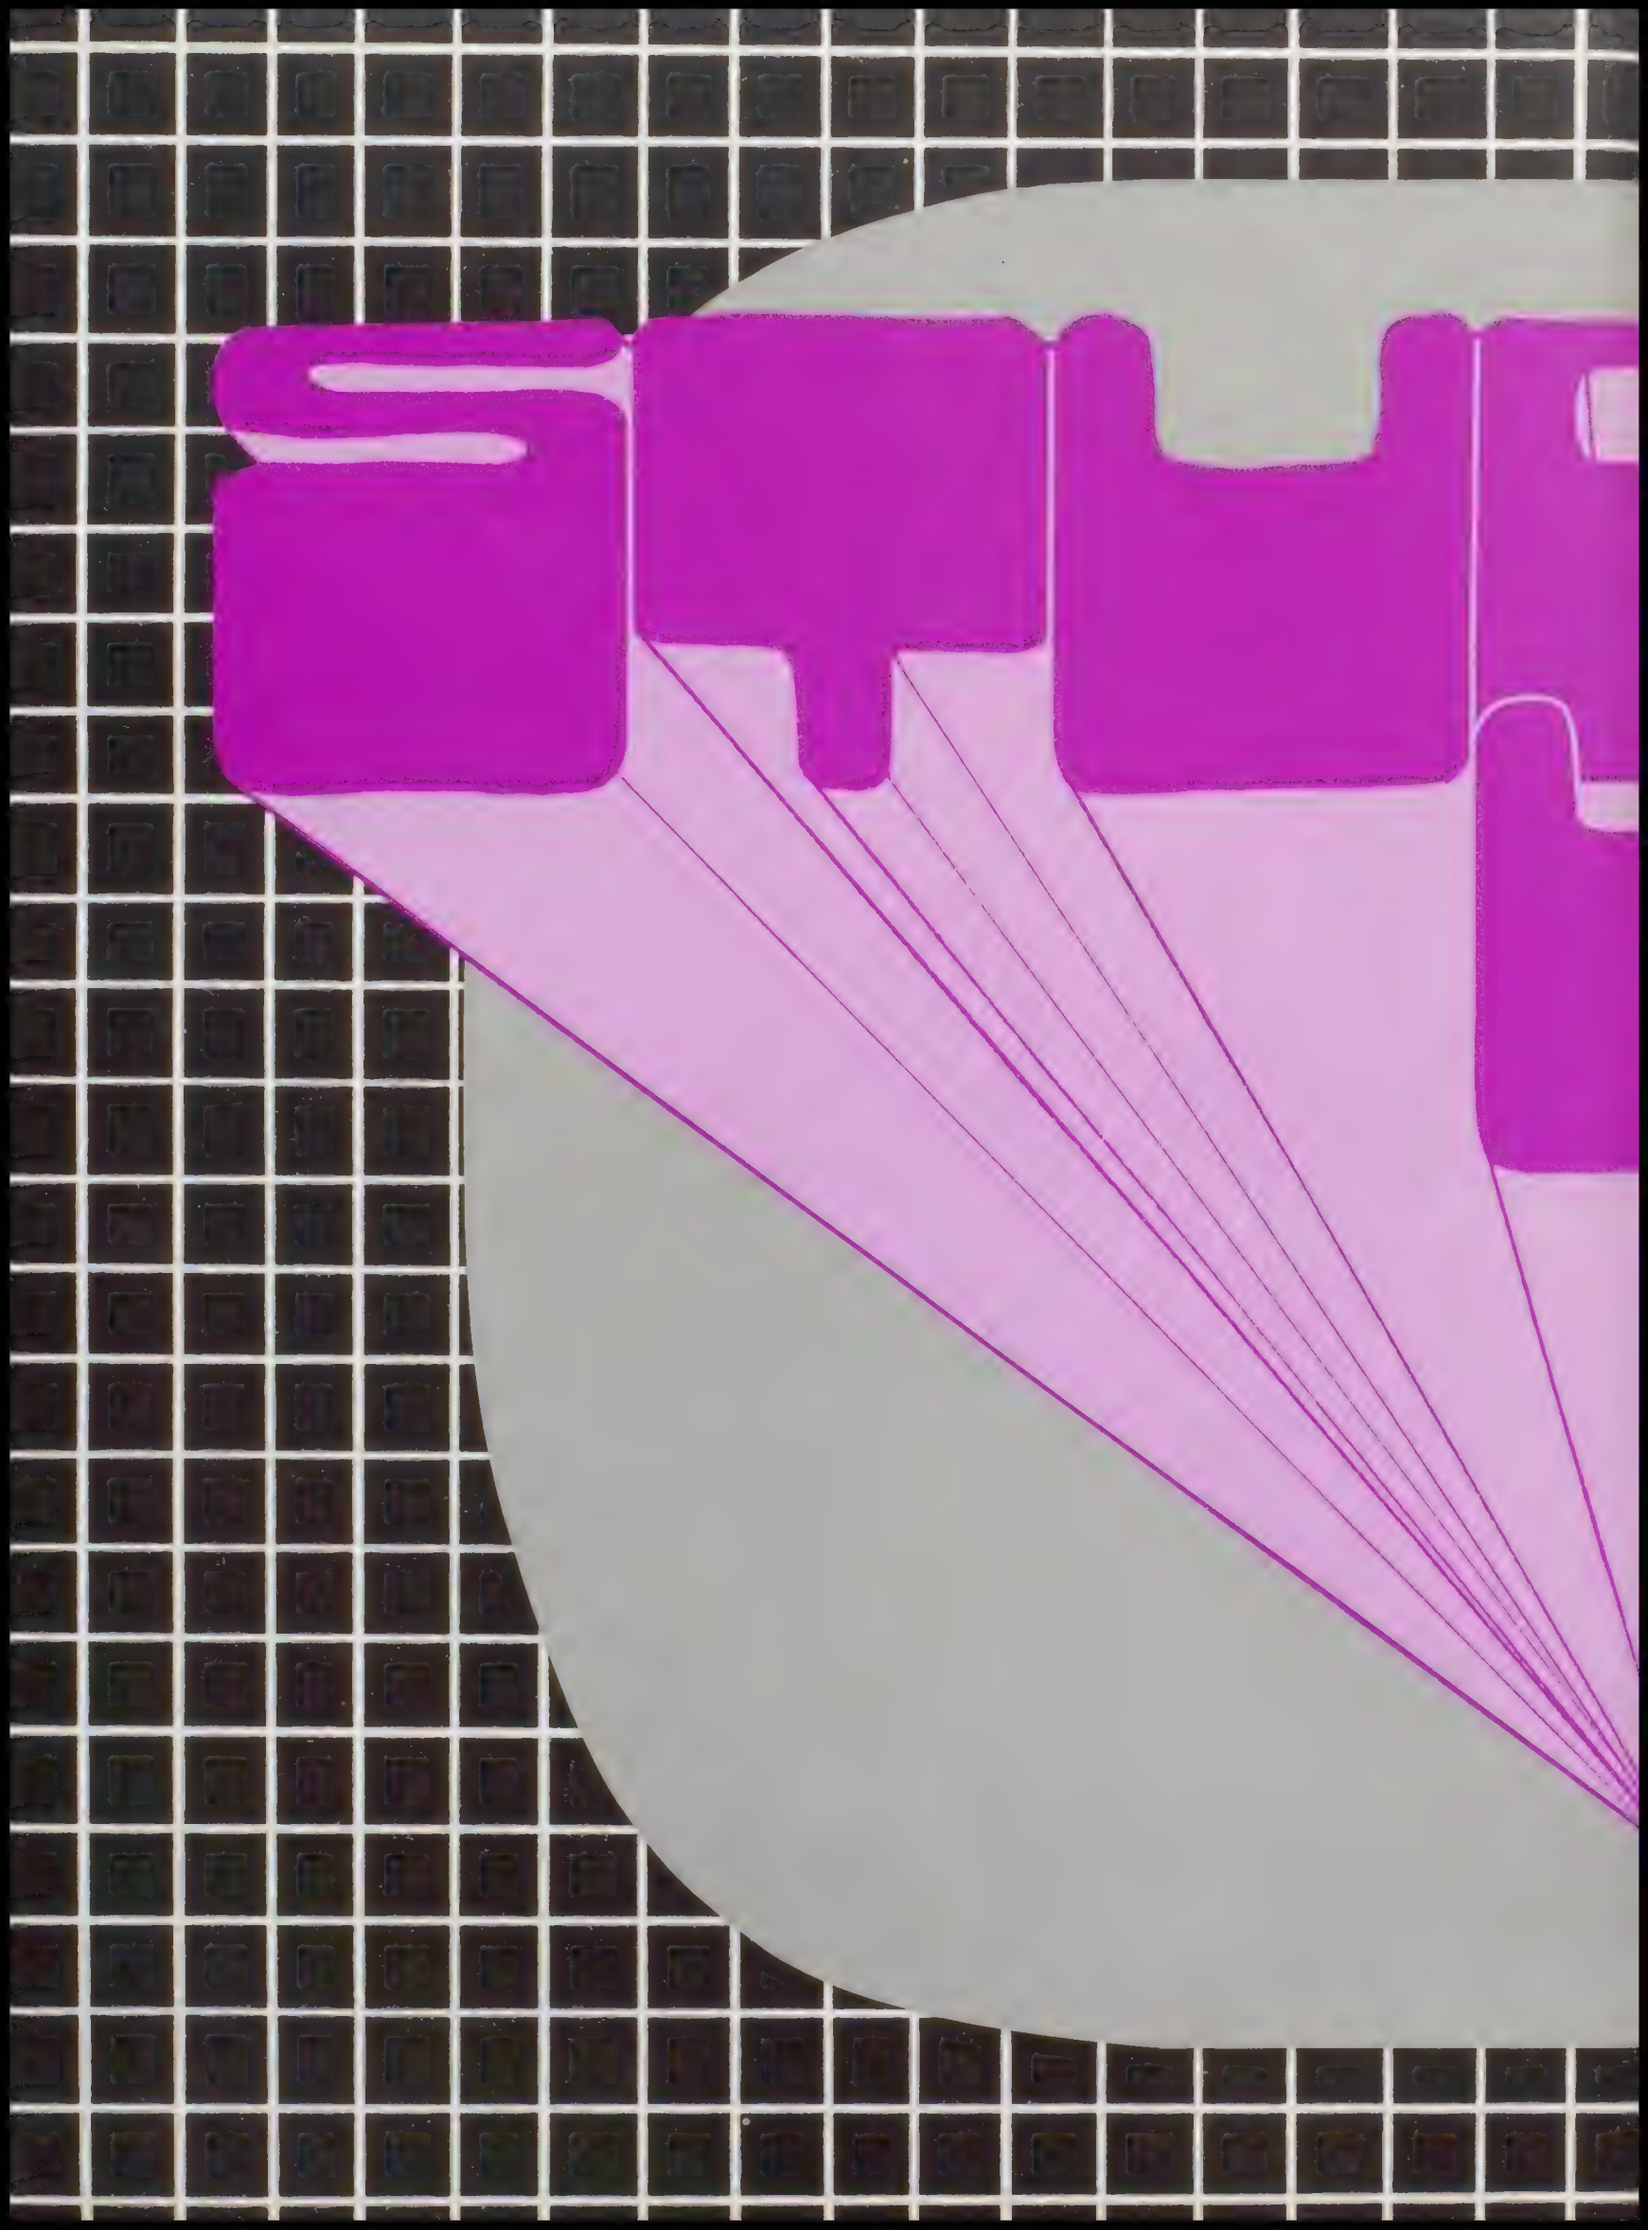
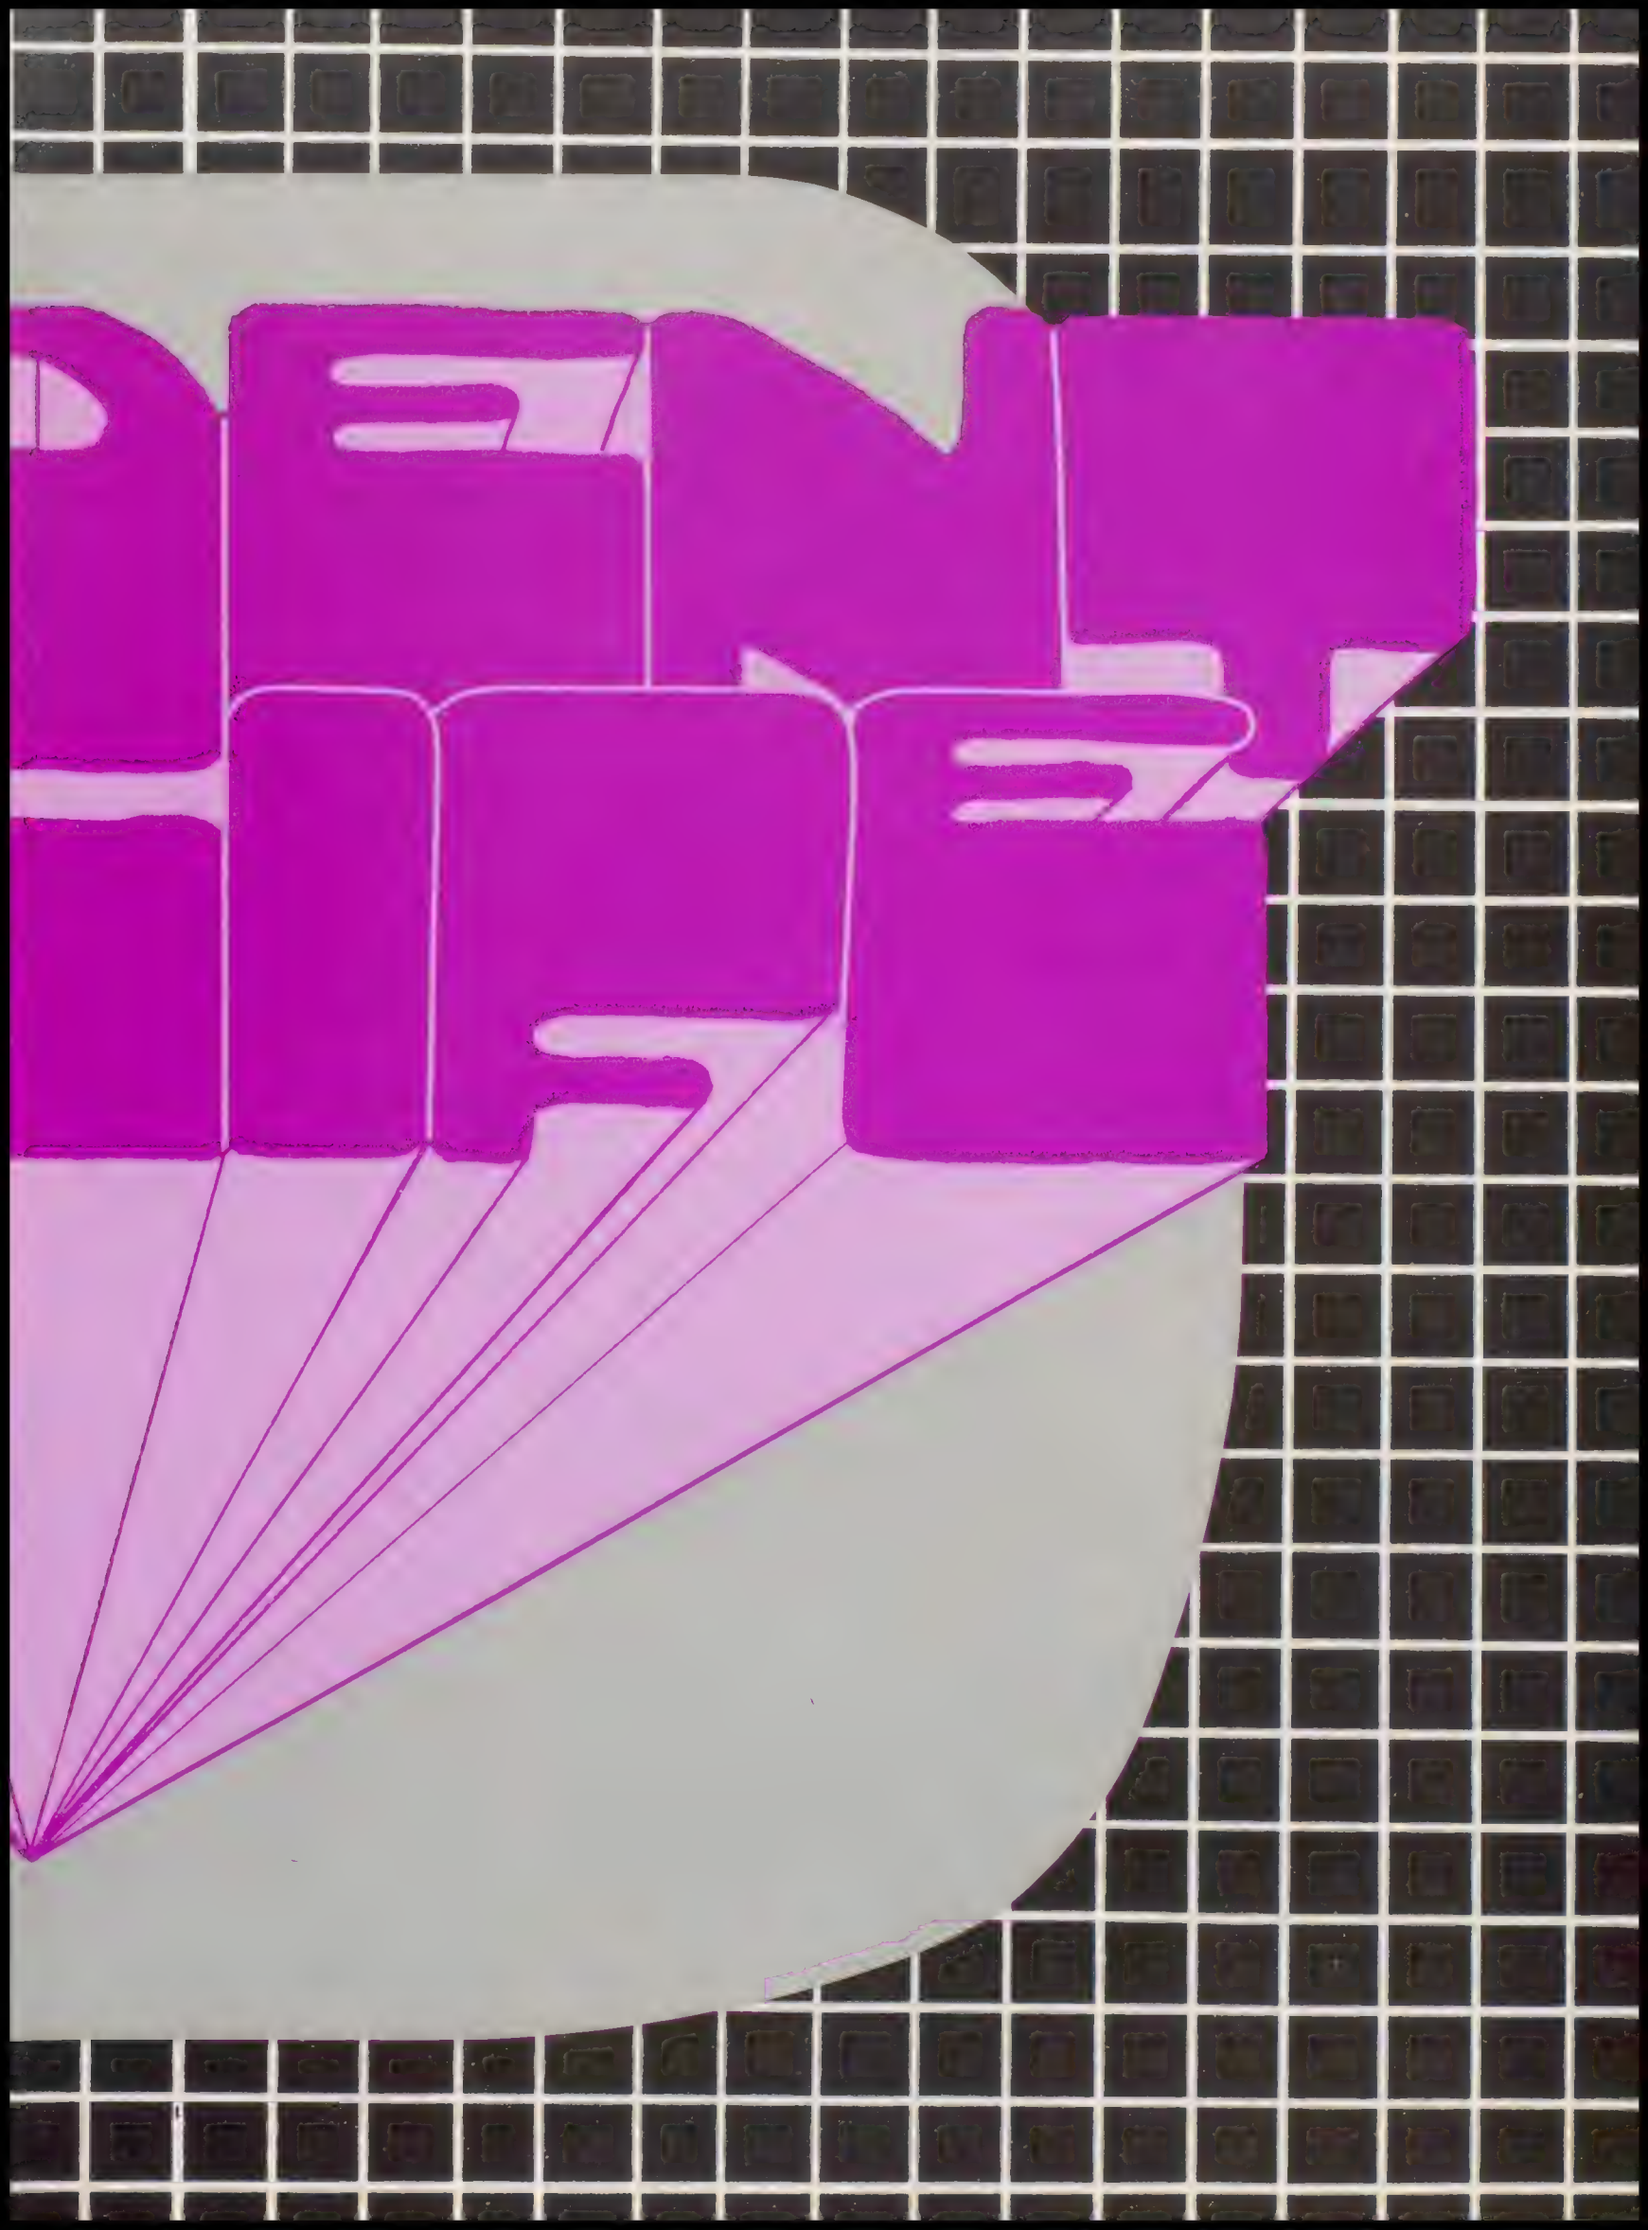
In Her Memory

The Prophet by Kahlil Gibran

No man can reveal to you aught but that which lies half asleep in the dawning of your knowledge. The teacher who in the shadow of the temple among his followers gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and lovingness. If he is indeed wise, he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.

This is not an essay to mourn Ms. Fore but rather one to remember all of the life that she contained. She was a very optimistic person with a witty sense of humor. One of the wonderful things about Ms. Fore was her ability to communicate with people. A close friend of hers said "Ms. Fore always knew that she wanted to teach. She thought every student had great potential and she always viewed them in a positive light." This attitude toward the students made it easier for her to deal with them when they had a problem and came to seek her advise. Many students have come to her after graduating to thank her for the help that made it possible for them to make it through school. Ms. Fore was an excellent example of someone being committed to education. She loved to learn and she loved to see other people learning. She was going to school for the past few years to finish her doctorate in educational administration. Her goal was to become the superintendant of schools in Alameda. Ms. Fore's personality lent a great amount of spirit and warmth to this school. She strongly supported extra-curricular activities and other school functions. Her joy for life made everything fun in all that she did. All of the students and teachers at Alameda High will remember her for what she contributed to our school and the good feelings she left behind.





The A.H.S. Cheerleaders worked hard this summer at camp. With their great Hornet spirit, they enthusiastically won every award at camp. The girls won the Unity Award, Spirit Stick, Superior Trophy and four superior ribbons. Three of the Cheerleaders were given applications to be instructors. Some of the rallies were as follows: Pac- man, Home coming rally, cheerleader - pom pon exchange rally, spirit rally for Omegas. This year was the first year to have Frosh on the line. Senior Gail Koffman gave her thought on having incoming freshmen on the line. "At first I was skeptical about having frosh on the line. However, they have proved themselves to be just as good, if not better than anyone else. Other members felt just the opposite. "I think the Frosh are all very good, I don't think freshmen should be on a varisty line in their first semester of high school. They are in general, not mature enough to handle the responsibility dealt them as cheerleaders" said one.

The Pom Pon girls proved to do just as well as the cheerleaders at camp. They cheered and danced their way to winning the Unity award, Spirit Stick, Superior trophy and four superior ribbons. Their routines had good timing with excellent moves. The songs used were: "The kid is hot tonight, working for the weekend:, "We go together", "Talk to you later", "The Jacksons". Both the fall lines had a successful season of spirit!

THEME: JUST THE TWO OF US.

"Just the two of us,
We can make it if we try;
Just the two of us,
You and I . . ."

The 1982 Sophomore Class of Alameda High wishes to express its sincere thanks to all those who made this evening possible!

Rock music is pounding your years, people are milling all around you, there is an air of excitement everywhere. Where are you? No, you are not at the rock concert, you are at this years Soph-Hop. This dance is held every year as a fund raiser by the Sophomore class. The theme for the dance this year was "Just the Two of Us," which obviously attracted a lot of people as the Sophomore class made about $1,500.00 on it. One of the main attractions and money makers was pictures taken in a gazebo setting. Many couples took advantage of this and now have a beautiful picture to keep for memories.

Music for the dance was provided by KRQR, but some people found it hard to dance to. Most of the people made due though, as the dance floor was usually crowded with dancing couples. The decorating for the dance was following a Halloween theme, which helped to kick off a week of spirit and enthusiasm for Halloween. All in all though, everyone had a good time. Jane Curliano, a junior, sums it all up like this; "The Soph-Hop left a lot to be desired, but the date was great!"

PLAY IT AGAIN BAND!

The magnificient, terriffic, great, fabulous, advanced band does it again! They played at home football games, the first semester they entertained at all assemblies, playing notes higher than the Bank of America building in San Francisco, spewing out notes faster than the speed of sound at their night concerts, the advanced band takes it to the limit this year!!! Under the conduction of Mr. Vince Iguerra and assistant Laura Julian, the band led the student body through the year with all of the vivacity of the entire pep club! Christine Walton who played the clarinet in the band said, "All of us really enjoy contributing to the school activities by bringing spirit with the songs we play. At the football games, we have the best time cheering on the team besides playing songs to get the crowd going!" So from the song and dance of it, it looks as if the advanced band will keep the school spirit high!

Wrong, this is a description of a person in leadership who is trying to meet a job deadline. Leadership isn't all fun and games like everyone thinks. There are a lot of responsibilities involved. President, Debbie Alexander knows that for sure, leadership is involved in every school activity in some way. Senior Leslee Nolthenius, an active participant in leadership says, "People don't realize how much work goes into one project, such as a dance. People think we don't need any help, but that's not true, we do." Personally, I think leadership has done a great job, keep up the good work!!!!!

AWESOME INTRAMURALS

"This years intramurals program was awesome!" says one enthusiastic intramural goer. It consisted of basketball, badminton, softball, flag football, volleyball, and soccer. Tennis was added this year as an additional supplement. Some of this year's winners were; The Studs in basketball, Marc Anthonys in volleyball, with a close dog-cat fight between the Flames and Dogbreath in soccer! But it wasn't the competition that made intramurals hot, no, it was all the participation and fun everyone partook in. Says Kathy Hansen of the Flames, "Intramurals is a rewarding experience. I got to know alot of people, and I really enjoyed it. Intramurals gives anyone a chance to be a part of the Alameda High nucleus, have a good time and make new friends." Jeanette Vacca, Intrmurals commissioner comments, "It really come a long way." This year a handbook was made, new equipment was purchased, and the budget was increased. A special thanks to Jeanette Vacca and Don Murray, Advisor. Clearly, Intramurals was very successful this year.

High energy and hot bodies dancing to the powerful sound of Legend filled the hall at the Greek Orthodox Church on the memorable evening of March 4. Not just another dance put on by Leadership but the Class of '84's Junior Prom which was open to all A.H.S. students. Pink punch (real punch!) flowed from gold fountain bowls refreshing tired guests and their dates as they sat and talked, drank and listened to taped music while the band took a break. Some couples did none of the above! As the evening came to a close, tuxedo shirts unbuttoned with missing bow-ties and girls' hair-do's coming undone were common sights. At the bewitching hour of midnight, the Prom ended for some but for others it had just begun . . . . . but that's between JUST YOU AND I.

There were various contests such as a dance contest, a skit contest and a contest between bands from different cities. Our dance contest was won by John Angle and Kathy Andrews. Our drama club participated in our skit, and the band that represented Alameda was Overdrive

PAC-MAN FEVER!

Have you ever felt like PAC-MAN? Many AHS students did this year. Mrs. Cecilie Gannon, the cafeteria director, and her staff, Marie Raymond, Carol Gamill, Vida Reiss, Theresa Broers, Ellie Gobble, Chris Owen, E. Won, and our devoted student helpers, Terry Brown, Wayne Crawford, Jaemin Smith, Fritz Renema, Andrew Renema, John Sherak, Steve Colvin, and Sean Bradshaw were very successful in filling all these hungry stomachs. The junk-food fans could choose from fries, cookies, cheese- and hamburgers, hotdogs, and burritos. There was milk, soup, fruit, sandwiches, and hot food for the brave ones and a salad bar for those who knew what was good for them. A new snack area in the modern building was opened to serve even more people during lunchtime.

Lots of people went downtown to devour pizzas, hotdogs, ice cream, soft-drinks and other things, and then spent the rest of the time playing video games or trying to borrow quarters. One thing was for certain, every minute of lunchtime was used to its' utmost.

Splat! Raw egg went all over Liz Garcia. Smush! Mike Hawley's face went into whip cream pie. That's how homecoming started this year. With the annual lunch time competition between the homecoming candidates. Then there was a mini-parade. Yes, Alameda High actually had a parade! Each class made a float and the homecoming candidates rode on thier floats down Walnut Street to Thompson Field. Sophomores caught the "new wave" and decorated thier float with thier spirit week theme. The Freshmen and Juniors decorated their cars with ballons and streamers. The all mighty Seniors decorated thier float like a giant Hornet. The actual homecoming ceremony was a little different this year. Debbie Nelson, commissioner of spirt, did a terrific job of organizing the whole event. We had four Senior king and queen candidates and a prince and princess from each of the classes. Each couple was presented with flowers and everyone went home happily ever after.

CLOSE UP

"It really widened my outlook on things. We were rushed so that we were able to see as much as possible." commented senior, Ingrid Seibert. This year's Close-Up event gigged February 13-19, carrying the A.H.S. students through a very rewarding experience that they promised never to forget. It consisted of numerous seminars including the executive, legislative, and judiciary branches of government. The group met with Pete Stark, Congressman of the 9th congressional district and with Representative Don Edwards of San Jose. It was agreed that more time was needed but they made the most of the time they had. The group met with students from Texas along with others from California. A special thanks to Mr. Gary Haberberger for a very chaotic four days of running around the capital.

R.O.P. CLASS GOES TO WORK

As you walk down the halls of the semi-historical old building, you could hear the sound of money changing hands, and the sound of cash registers ringing through the halls.

"I'm rich!!!" yelled Sarah Mallory.

"Not so fast," said John Vanolden. "You're overdrawn by $5,000. That leaves you with $2.46."

"Well, almost," Sarah commented sadly. Ms. Healy has been teaching bank telling for two years now. The class teaches people all the technical skills to perform when on the job.

Across the hall in Ms. Bostwick's R.O.P. class, Davis Vandergrift is charging Nancy Storm current inflated prices plus 200% for a few items.

"Isn't that a little much?" asked Nancy.

"Well, you have to make a living some how," said millionaire Vandergrift.

Job experience is the name of the game. Ms. Bostwick's students learn everything about merchandising from stock management to invoicing. Ms. Bostwick's expert knowledge of merchandising results in the hiring of 80 to 90 percent of her students.

"The TMR class has been a wonderfully supportive place." explained Mrs. Cassani-Hodgkins, the class instructor. Their major goal is to prepare the students for as independent a life as possible.

Some of their activities included cashing checks with the R.O.P. Banking program, going to a crafts class, attending assemblies, shopping, cooking, learning communication skills, and doing simple sewing. A few even work at Mervyns, or take a Jazzercise course.

Fortunately, the T.M.R. class has been accepted very well by the rest of the student body. It has exposed them to severely handicapped students, and they have realized that these kids are more normal than they are handicapped. The handicapped students have been treated equally and many rewarding friendships have developed.

GIRLS GIRLS GIRLS: Did you happen to notice this spring that the Student Body officers just happen to be all girls? Maybe it was because of that, that they always agreed on decisions. One of the many projects they did to raise money for the school was the selling of party mugs with the school emblem on it. So it was proved that equality is in the mind and not the sex.

"Hornet Power!" echoed through out the stadium as David Kriwinski kicked a 28 yd. field goal with six seconds left in the game as the 1983 Varsity Hornets once again humiliated the Encinal Jets. Unfortunately all the games this season didn't turn out as well. With only 4 wins out of 10 games, the Hornets managed to win two quite important games of the year; homecoming and the traditional Alameda vs. Encinal big game.

Pulverizing Harry Ells in the homecoming game 24-6 the Hornets generated spirit towards the big game against Encinal. Pete Veenbaas helped the team roll over Harry Ells with guards Bruce Reaney and David Kriwinski defending him.

Although most of this year's Varsity squad will be leaving, the Hornets look to next year as a great year. With juniors John Garcia, Paul Santilena and Taylan Plasch returning the hornets plan to make "defeat" a word of the past and "To go for it all!"

With the good sportsmanship from all the players, the Soph/Frosh football team had an impressive season. The crowd was always cheering as the players pushed themselves to prove that they were more than just the average football team.

The passing and running of quarterback Mark Quinada contributed to the team, along with center, Scott Slez, and tough linebackers like Mike Foster, Eric Strenfeld, Todd Oliver and Rowell Bernardo.

Junior Mike Rossi, Senior Co-captain Tom Houghton, and Rob McGeachan were voted All-League. Field player Tom Houghton and goalie Rod McGeachan were selected to North Coast Honorable Mention honors.

The J.V. also placed very well, finishing the season with a 2nd place at the J.V. Tournament. As did the varsity, they lost only to San Ramon during the season. It is a strong, young team who's future looks very promising.

In the beginning of the season, the Hornet's J.V. girls basketball team got off on a slow start, losing thier first 3 games. But under excellent coaching of Brad Thomas, the Hornet's came back strong with their usual style of play to win their next ten games in a row. The Hornet's caught the opposing team off guard with their aggresive women to women pressure defense. They came out and pressured the entire game, frustrating opponents and getting a lot of turnovers and fast-break layups.

Even though the Hornet's are relatively an inexperienced team with six freshmen, they play like experienced veterans. Kristi Jensen, starting freshmen is an excellent poster and leads the Hornet's with a 13 point average. Joy Ridout aids to the scoring punch defense that combined with her good passing ability, gives the Hornet's their main one-two punch.

Diana Pao and Dawn Basque are two of their starting Hornets. Both are good rebounders and give the Hornets many second and third shots on offense as well as typing up a lot of jump-balls. Marcia Tsang rounds out the starting squad and quarter backs the team as point guard. She handles the ball excellently under pressure and adds to the scoring punch.

The remaining players of the team come off the bench and keep constant pressure on opposing teams. Hornets have a well rounded bench with good offensive and defense players, so when starters get in foul trouble the bench does an excellent job all over the court.

Frosh-ball hits Alameda High!!

"Swish" was the sound in the Larry-Patton Gymnasium as the 1983 Frosh Hornets battled our number one rivals, the Encinal Jets.

Like all new teams, the Coaches Bob Cabaceiras, Joe Burk, and Kevin Saro had to take a little extra time to break in the new Frosh.

Slick shooting from Rowell Bernardo and Scott Slez lead the new Hornets to a strong year. Defense from forwards Chuck Faulkner and Rick Harwood kept the new cagers up to par.

Fresh from grade school, the Frosh just needed "a little more experince." With-in due time, the Frosh of '83 will be the sharp shooters on the future varsity teams.

It's 6:30 in the morning. The swim center lights burn brightly in the dark morning sky, which gradually grows dusky and lightens with the rising sun. The air has the crisp fresh quality which only the early morning air possesses, and is accentuated by the tang of chlorine. The steaming pool churns with activity as the strong, glistening bodies of A.H.S.'s Women's Swim Team do their morning workout. Ms. Curry bellows out the sets: six 100's on the minute-thirty, five 200's on the three, etc.; she gives the girls a few thousand yards of workout every morning to start off their days. This cycle of swimming, pulling and kicking is repeated more extensively during the afternoon workouts. "We have swimmers of excellent callibre," remarked Ms. Curry proudly, "We had 70 girls try out." "A.C.A.L. is in the bag for us," said senior captain Patty Tormey confidently.

"Swimming is a personal achievement which requires lots of work." advised Joanne Trenkle to a fellow team mate. The A.H.S. 1983 Women's swim team was absolutly awesome. They dealt out defeat left and right to their demolished opponents.

They were definitly one of the strongests girls swim teams in A.H.S.'s history. Terrific new frosh such as Shirley Perata, Sheri Gardner and Liz Grimes, added to the already strong veteran swimmers like Paula Pirack, Patty Tormey, Julie Lee, Crissi Grace and Joanne Wong, to name a few. This combination made an unbeatable team. We sent a larger than usual number of swimmers to the North Coast Championships including relay teams. Many old records were broken and A.H.S. practically has a whole new set of records from this fantastic year.

BE ALL THAT YOU CAN BE

Not only the largest but the rowdiest Men's Swimming Team that ever existed in last 40 years of AHS was more than successful; it was awesome. With high determination to bring victory, the seniors (occasionally Larry Coval), juniors, and the rest of the team vigorously gave bloody workout before and after school which led the result of splendid season. Nevertheless though they faced few ups and downs, over all we couldn't ask for more.

SUBJECT: 1982- 83 GIRLS

With tennis balls flying everywhere and Coach Fairfield biting his nails to the extremes, the Girl's Varsity Tennis Team came together last fall to have one of the best teams in the league. With a record of 12 wins and 3 losses, the team took 2nd in the ACAL Championships. The Co-Captians for this year were Sonja Yates and Kaeti Fairfield. Kelly Doan, playing No. 4 singles had 10 wins and 2 losses for the best singles record. Playing No. 1 doubles was Kim Pauline and Wendy Orear. It was definitely not a boring job, but pretty much a quiet one. These girls worked hard to keep the records straight. GOLFERS ARE UP TO PAR

Slash, swipe, fore cut through the afternoon air as golfers struggled to send a little white ball across the water and through the desert to land on a perfectly green patch of grass with a hole in the middle. They claim golf is fun and relaxing. It must be because the team has grown in size and strength. Returning from last year were: Jeff Appleton -Jr; Ian Bissinger-Soph; Craig Cecconi-Sr.; Steve Chrissanthos-Sr; Rick Christie-Soph: Jon Cross-Sr.; Tom Kent-Sr.; Kevin Merrigan-Jr.; Chae Song-Sr.; James Walker-Sr.; Jeanette Vacco-Sr.

Newcomers to the team are: Justin Chin-Fr.; Woody Dal Porto-Fr.; Chuck Fauldner-Fr.; John Ferris-Sr.; Andy Fredericks-Soph.; Tim Harrison-Fr.; Mike Jessen-Jr.; Pat Johnson-Jr.; Chris Kelly-Fr.; Rick Nelson-Fr.; Tony Roque-Fr.; Jim Stonehousr-Fr.

For the second year Alameda was in the Richmond-Berkeley Athletic League. After dominating the Alameda County Atheletic League for 25 years the team came in 2nd to Berkeley last year. With the present returning lettermen and new additions to the team Alameda High should return to their previous championship in 1983.

"Puff, puff, sigh, relief," these are some of the things that every cross-country runner thinks as he goes up and then over Agony and Deadman's; the challenge! The boys cross-country team is fairly young with only three veterans from last year. "The whole team has improved vastly since the beginning of the season," said Kevin Cubillas, senior captain. Teammate Vince Barletta commented, "We make up for a small team by working hard." There are only nine members on the team compared to other schools, which are double or triple the size. Our small team has a lot of spirit and spunk, which has enabled them to become victorious over such schools as San Leandro and Piedmont. Coach Tim Bruder said, "We have three of the top runners in the ACAL," refering to Kevin Cubillas, Bernie Krausse, and Doug Young, last year's veteran runners. Doug and Vince leave two words, "GET PSYCHED!!!!"

Have you the endurance, the determination, the strength, to run 42 miles a week on top of school and homework? I asked the women's X-country team members what motivated them to run the torturous miles up and down the Oakland hills. Wendy Van de Veer says, "I don't know what it is but something keeps me going. After running a hard workout, I get a great feeling of accomplishment." First time, frosh Justine Van Spyk, "Each team member helps each other." "WE'RE RICH!" exclaimed Kathy Koo, Senior class treasurer. The class of 1983 started Senior fundraisers early to get a headstart. A super sudsy carwash was held during the summer profiting $200.00. On top of that, $150.00 of ghostly Halloween Grams were sold a couple of weeks before the Senior sponsored Homecoming Dance, which was of course a great success. Last but no way the least was the traditional spaghetti feed! All which contributed to the low cost of the Senior Ball. Seniors Go To Work This Year. This may sound unbelieveable for Seniors as they often catch Senioritis, but this was their theme for Spirit Week. Many Seniors united in their theme which hopefully contributed to the unification of the class of 1983 at their Senior Banquet. "The class of 1983 is the most spirited and best class in existence!" firmly stated Elisabeth Urfer, member of the Senior class.

"The thing that makes us so unique, as well as being the richest class, is because we are also the most spirited." That statement by Vice President Debbie Slez, represented the class of '83 through out their 4 yrs. at A.H.S. Showing their spirit by winning 3 out of 4 spirit weeks, the class of '83 with their new spring officers, came in for their last semester at A.H.S. and proved their superiority. Always striving for more, the class of '83 was the only class at A.H.S. to have their Senior Ball at San Francisco's "Galleria." The senior spring activities, to name a few, began with the traditional class of '83 spaghetti feed, senior ski trip and ended with the all night party on a bay cruise and Graduation.

Class of 1983 Rock the Bay.

The evening of January 8 was one of dancing, dining, and partying. The class of 83 put on what was probably the best banquet ever. The three windowed walls of Hs Lordship's Restaurant in the Berkely Marina offered a panaramic view of the San Francisco bay and prooved that Seniors definitely have class and taste. The committee of Mike Piazza, Leslie Nolthenius, and Siobhan Mihara along with Ms Gallagher were very pleased with the turnout of 212 seniors.

Clad in bright flowered shirts and dresses, lei's and sandals, the Class of 84 swarmed the halls with island culture as they went "Hawaiian" for spirit week. To coincide with their theme, the Juniors held an "Evening of Tropical Delights", a luau featuring barbecued chicken, a vegetable dish and tons of luscious Hawaiian desserts. All for the low price of $4.50. Can you believe it?! "Working together as a class was especially important to raise funds for the Junior Prom that was held on March 4, 1983," remarked Andrew Renema, Fall president. Successful fundraisers have been a carwash and the Hawaiian Luau, bringing the class of 1984 $2400 closer to an awesome Prom.

The spring highlight of the CLASS OF 84 was the Junior Prom. Bids were sold for $25.00 per couple, allowing them to dance the evening away at the Greek Orthodox Church in Oakland hills. Andrew Renema was re-elected this term as President, organizing the class once again for successful fund raisers. As Spring Secretary, Nancy Storm said, "The main concern of the officers is to get other people besides us involved in class activities, especially the Junior Prom preparations. "Many thanks to those on committees for the Prom: Decorations, Bids, Set-and Clean up and all the Chaperones, Also congratulations to the other Spring officers on making this spring as a very special one for all: Liz Falkner, Nicole Mihara, Sonja Yates

WANTED: GUYS — "Our class is doing awesome!" exclaimed Kathy Hansen, President of the Sophomore class. However, more guys need to get involved. There were nine offices filled and all with girls. Perhaps this reflects the ascendancy of women? Or does it guys? Come on guys where's your spirit for the class of 1985! Speaking of spirit, Sophomores caught the New Wave for Spirit Week. They rolled in the new year with a profitable fundraiser: "Just the Two of Us.", the theme for the Soph-Hop, making a total of $1600. Other fundraisers included selling pennants and sponsoring an International Dinner. The money raised was for various trips and towards making their Junior Prom one to remember. The Class of 1985 looks to be a success!

"We're the Sophomore Class! and with the new year we have new faces, fresh ideas and Great Plans for the Spring of "83" ", says Dawn Thomas enthusiastically, the Class of '85's Spirit Leader. Some great ideas the officers have thought up to make an exciting Spring are: A Boat Dance, (a cruise on the Bay), and International Dinner featuring foods from different countries, and a Talent Show put on by the Sophomores. In the case of a Spring Spirit Week, the Sophomores are MORE than prepared!

Freshman unorganized? You've got to be joking! You might think they are but they will prove you wrong. The Freshmen Officers got on the ball at the beginning of the year and started planning many fundraisers. Of these were a Frosh-Wash (no, they didn't wash the Freshmen), and they sold buttons at the Alameda vs. Encinal game. During the week preceeding the game, the Freshmen showed their spirit for the school by "hitting the streets" in the spirit assembly. From the looks of this year, the class of 1986 is going to be very successful.

Entering A.H.S. for the first time, wide eyed and timid the class of '86, after overcoming the fall semester, had big plans for the spring. Quoting from president Srephanie D'Orazio, the class of '86 planned to "double, maybe even triple the $400.00 they made in the fall. Assisting President D'Orazio were: vice president Krisren Ingeman, Secretary Sandra Wong, Treasurer Dora Leong and Spirit leader Jenny Thomas

With a very spirited class to work with, the spring Ad-Board (consisting of: Chris Kelly, Scott Slez, Jessica Abude, Nicole Carroll) along with other officials, planned a rummage sale, a bake sale, and another car wash. With high hopes the class of '86 even planned to sponsor a Dance.

FRENCH CLUB TAKES THE CHEESE

There is a place where the grass grows green, with a fresh-water stream and a small pond nearby, and if you follow those odors which your nose can barely detect at a distance, you will find yourself tasting the most luscious Camembert and Brie cheeses you can find. No, contrary to popular belief you aren't in the middle of France but rather in a mystical place called Napa Valley. You are at the Rouge-et-Noir-or the Red and Black for those of us who don't Parle Francais,-cheese factory where the Frenchmen and women of our student body traveled to make this an interesting and enjoyable year for the club. The head cheese of this group is Kaeti Fairfield and she has in mind other activities as well. Late in October most of the members went on a night out to the movies and took in the French movie "Diva." Faculty sponsor Alicia Nourse says "It's one of the funnest films I've seen in a long while." Working with Kaetie to plan more adventures are Christine Walton, Nancy Storm, and Page Rohwer

What did some of our best students do when they weren't busy studying? They participated in C.S.F., a state-wide organization dedicated to preparing its studious members for college success. To achieve this goal, the club advisor, Mr. Brooks, and members visited Stanford University where they observed classes in progress. College students and speakers came in to tell the club about college life and other universities. In order to finance visits to other colleges and the club's many activities, such as "Pizza Day," members sold World's Finest Chocolates. C.S.F. members also tutored many A.H.S. students who needed help in certain subjects.

"Kaiski Ri!"The Jujitsu club "bows in" and class starts. But this is no regular class room there are no desks only mats and students get thrown, choked and are held in pain holds. Unpleasant, hostile on the contrary this is a very close knit class. Kenneth Bell Comments Vicki Hom quips "we're a family" and everyone helps each other. "It's a fun, easy-going class. Everyone should get into it," adds John Cusack. The kids learn the philosophy and history of marshal arts. They don't go out and beat up others with what they've learned says dojo Dave Fairfield. Jujitsu gives kids Motivation and incentive to achieve. "It teaches us to respect and trust others."

One of our biggist events is Camp Kodenkan,(the camp of sharing), in the spring. We also went to Hawaii over the summer for Prof. Wally Jay's B-day.

To sum it all up, this is a class of "caring" and it is considered by the student as "the best".

Kounteract Club

"With the changes that we have made, I think that we have a better club this year," says a Kounteract member.

The school year brought about many changes for Kounteract. A new attitude and a different type of leadership were the main reasons for the change. They became more involved with their school and with their community.

Aiding organizations such as the Family Chapter is just one way that Kounteract got involved with their community. They always tried to benefit Alameda by holding successfull fundraisers which proved to be the key to their social life.

Also throughout the year, Kounteract helped keep the school halls clean, but not all the activities were work! Some of their social activities were a Superbowl party and Christmas caroling with Interact. A variety of new members helped to bring the club in close contact with the people of our school.

SKI

CLUB

The largest and most likely the wealthiest club of Alameda High School has lived through another successful year. Almost everybody likes to ski, and since many students do not have the opportunity to go very often, the ski club offers a nice chance to go on trips. That is the reason why the ski club is so popular, according to ski club president Steve Kelly. The club had about 150 members this year. "It doesn't matter whether you can ski," Steve Kelly says. "You can just as well come and learn it, although that might be rather expensive."

The club organized a successful trip at the start of the year to Kirkwood. Another one was planned in the beginning of February, but had to be cancelled because too few people signed up. The reasons were probably the end-of-semester finals and the place the trip was going to be held, which was Sugar Bowl. When the trip was replanned for the end of February, there was much more enthusiasm. The club seems to be so rich because of various candysales and the willingness of club members to pay for their trips. Membership fees were $3.00. The club was very generous since it donated $50.00 for the Ms. Fore memorial.

Pieces were added and the new dance was developed. It was still a question on which member of the club was the best at splits! The club made several dances on modern music, training in the recreation room of an apartment at one of the members homes, once or twice a week after school. The club planned fundraisers, such as a candy-sale. Mrs. Gail Bostwick sponsored the club and was a great help offering her house for training and teaching the members new steps.

USHERETTES

Service with a smile was the motto for this years Usherette club as they worked at the open house and also helped at the school play and graduation. Could you imagine what back to school night would be like without the Usherettes? Parents wandering the halls looking for little Junior's class and not finding it. Also could you imagine what the school play would be like without the Usherettes to show an poor old lady to her seat and instead having her fall head over heels down the aisle, and what about graduation? If we didn't have the Usherettes to pass out programs, we would see mom and dad mistake the girl next door for little Julie.

Are you a freshman looking for a real good time? Well your search has just ended. You have come upon Keywanettes. Keywanettes is a warm, friendly club that has a real good time doing worthwhile things in the community. The club holds many fundraisers such as bake sales, a cookie sale, and an Ice Cream Social, all for the benefit of many charities. They also give a lot of their valuable free time to help the community in different ways. One of those activities was a trip to Whitton School in Oakland where they helped to make a Haloween party successful for many handicapped children. Even with all these rewarding activities the club still finds time to get together and enjoy each others company. They had pot-luck lunches and various parties in order to help keep the spirit up and the club running smoothly. This is the club secretary's summing up of the club: "Keywanettes provides an opportunity for members to develop leadership qualities while also enjoying friendships formed."

The scent of fried rice, sweet-and-sour pork, and other Asian delicacies, gave our cafeteria a distinctly Oriental atmosphere at the first annual Oriental dinner held by the Asian Club. The dinner was a success and they later held potlucks and yummy bake sales. The Asian Club was one of the busiest clubs one could join, constantly involved in school activities. The enthusiastic group participated in all Intramural Sports, went on a ski trip, and had car washes, paper drives, and gym nights. In addition to promoting friendships among Asian-Americans, the club welcomed all students of various nationalities to expand and enrich their understanding of Asian cultures.

Foreign Student Insight

You may have seen these students around the campus, but probably have not talked to them. They are all from countries other than the U.S. The Acorn Staff has interviewed them and found out some pretty interesting facts about them and the difference in their life styles.

They left their countries to come to America for many reasons. Ranjna Mahay left because of her fathers work; but she is used to traveling to different places. ForAnjila Ari quee , and Khanh Trang Pham left because of the spreading communism in their countries and the loss of their rights and freedon. They each would like to return to their original homes one day, but it is least likely if they ever will; maybe for a visit but not to stay.

They say that, "American schools are easy compared to what they are used to." Can you imagine having twelve to fourteen classes and biology, physics, and chemistry as one subject. Well they are used to it. These classes are mandatory form sixth to twelveth grades. Teachers come to your class, you never have to leave the classroom. 'You must always do your homework you don't dare not do it, you just don't," says Rajna Mahay. All of their classes were taught in English, but they've had very little practice speaking the language. They said, "learning all of the American slangs was one of the hardest tasks."

SUBJECT: Ranjna Mahay QUOTE: "Who Me?"

The major differences that they have experienced are that they don't have co-ed schools and are not allowed to have boyfriends or girlfriends. Would you ever let your parents choose your spouse for you? Probably not, but this is very common custom to them. Family ties are very strong; the family stays together and they always take care of their elderly. They say that, "students here don't have much respect for their teachers or elders."

We, the yearbook staff would like to thank these students for sharing a part of them and giving us an insight of parts of the world to us. We wish for the best of luck and good wishes here for you and your families.

ARTS

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Price, Mrs. King, and Mrs. Hoshi work together from day to day tackling the many responsibilities of being high school administrators. Plan meetings, counsel students and talk with parents, are just a few of their responsibilities. They are not here just to handle all of the school's "business" but also to help the students of the school. They talk to students and really get to know them.

COUNSELING

If you go by the counseling office you would probably hear something like this . . . "But there isn't any room in his 3rd period class! But he might have some room in his 4th period. Then I would have to change my first to 5th period, my 5th to 2nd, and my . . .!" Every school day the counselors run around helping "troubled" students with their schedules, teacher problems, future plans, etc . . . We sometimes forget how much they mean to us as well as to the whole school system.

"HE'S PRICELESS"

Mr. Harry J. Price has been our principal for the past twelve years. He has decided to make this year his last at our school. When asked to describe his position as principal, he thought of the words "exciting, gratifying, difficult, time consuming, and rewarding". Mr. Price emphasized his thoughts on how great the students of our school are. He felt that "The students are the greatest part of our educational community, the easiest to relate to. They are more informed and easier to work with than they were ten years ago". He said that the distance between the principal and student is unfortunate but necessary for the place of authority that the principal must have. In his position as principal, Mr. Price has more than done his job.

In 1979, Mr. Price took on the responsibility of leading the faculty and the students in planning the new Alameda High School and the difficult transition of moving an entire high school. He was instrumental in helping us obtain the best possible facilities for our limited campus space. Also, when the school was in jeopardy of losing its drama department in 1981, Mr. Price went out of his way to find compromise for the issue and find a solution agreeable to the students and the school board. It is this type of concern that makes Mr. Price such a wonderful principal seeing that the principal of any school plays such a critical and crucial role in the school system and in helping students learn. We will miss Mr. Price's presence for he is truly priceless.

THE COMPUTER ERA

Imagine a wordsmith so wise that he can easily comprehend and manipulate more words than most people ever use, then spew them out, with spelling errors corrected, on a high speed printer. Imagine a teacher with the infinite patience who has the devilish ability to spot your weak points and drill you on them, in everything from typing to French. A master sportsman who never tires of playing your favorite games. A researcher who with a little help from the telephone, can call up the worlds great books, the breaking news, the best buys in local clothing shops and the latest breakthrough in kidney research, and bring them all into the privacy of your own living room. And imagine all these things wrapped up in a form so protein that even it's creators have no idea of it's limits—If there is any. There you have it: the computer.

Computers are intertwined in the business, home, and entertainment world in which we live today. They help run everything from video games to the traveling in the outer hemisphere by the Space Shuttle. Thanks to the invention of the computer chip, computers are capable of storing more data, yet compact enough to be a part of everyday life as much as the telephone and automobile.

Everyday computers aid in the development of modern advances such as the lazer which is used in place of surgeons and their instruments, in new High-Tec. weapontry, robots which are used on manufacturing assembly lines, as well in hospitals and at home.

Medicine has also been greatly effected by this new technology. Countless numbers of lives have been saved by computers that moniter, diagnose, and treat the illness. As well as being more efficient then a large crew of nurses, the computer can get it done in half the time.

Computers are also giving birth to a new breed of people, commonly referred to as "The Computer Generation."These are the youngsters of today, who with a little help from a computer, are taught to broaden their spectrums of knowledge, insetting the intelligence needed to build a mentally superior race.

Theses children are taught that computers are something that can and will help them, in turn they will grow up with the know how of running and programming computers, with the simplicity of tieing their shoes.

Besides the basic home computer unit, computers and computerized function are found all around the home of the 80's. If you own any products that have been manufactured in the past few years, there's a good chance that they are computerized; such products like a color television, stereo, dishwasher, blender, coffee maker, camera, video cassette recorder, microwave oven, hair dryer, and most new cars have computerized systems.

Don't be surprised in a couple of years if you phone talks instead of rings, with a computerized voice modulator. A computerized synthesized voice can be telling you that your driving too fast, your bank account balance or even when your roast is done. There are already alarm clocks on the open market that speak the time, I know because I own one, and while the aspects are a little scary, the prospects are inescapably intriuging. We are lucky enough to be at a threshold of a new era, and era like all era's that must eventually end, but before we reach the termination of this path, we wonder. I know our curiosities will be peaked and our intelligence enhanced many times over by this miraculous machine known as the computer.

A WORD OF CLOSING

WE THANK YOU

There are so many people who contributed to this yearbook in so many ways that we could never name them all. Still we would like to take this opportunity to mention a few who went above and beyond the call in offering their personal time and talents to help make this anual the best ever.

It seems appropriate to first give credit to Norm Luebker who spent countless hours desinging our cover. Thanks Norm, we love it! Patrick Mebine is the author of the introductory poem. Pat's hard work and creativity was a great help to us all year. Anita Wong was our art editor. She along with Josien Brinkhuis were responsible for most of the art work in the book including the excellent art on the senior best page. Also we have gained great admiration and respect for Chris Moore, our head photographer. His expertise in photography was extremely valuable to us. Furthermore we want to recognize Jane Curliano and Page Rohwer for the courage it took to create a senior best that truly represented the whole of the senior class.

Most of the production is done by the staff members, but the production is certainly eased by the cooperation and help of some non staff members. Mrs. Robinson, again this year, was instrumental in the organizing the financial end. She collected, counted and sold, and her work make ours much easier. Also Mrs. Green, Ms. Beckman and Mrs. Fisher deserve a word of thanks for their cooperation and help. And finally Mrs. Winzenread should be recognized for her dedication and organization— your interest really showed.

Although some might feel it goes without saying, I want to say it. "Thanks yearbook staff." This years staff was a very hard working and dedicated bunch. The extra time and effort often went without notice but the goal was not personal recognition but rather the production of a fine annual.

And finally we would like to thank the faculty for their patience throughout the year. We realize that in an effort to do our job we often make it hard for you to do yours. Photo sessions and deadlines often meant disrupted classes, and we really appreciate your putting up with us.

THE AWESOME FIVESOME

Life! We've been long together. Through pleasant and though cloudy weather; 'Tis hard to part when friends are clear, Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear; Then steal away give little warning; Choose thine own time; Say not 'Good-night'; but in some brighter clime, Bid me 'Good-morning'

Bing

I've looked to you so many times
to see your happy smile,
I've come to you for company
to talk a little while,
I've laughed with you and shared with you a world of special things -- I've learned from you the precious joys that only caring brings.

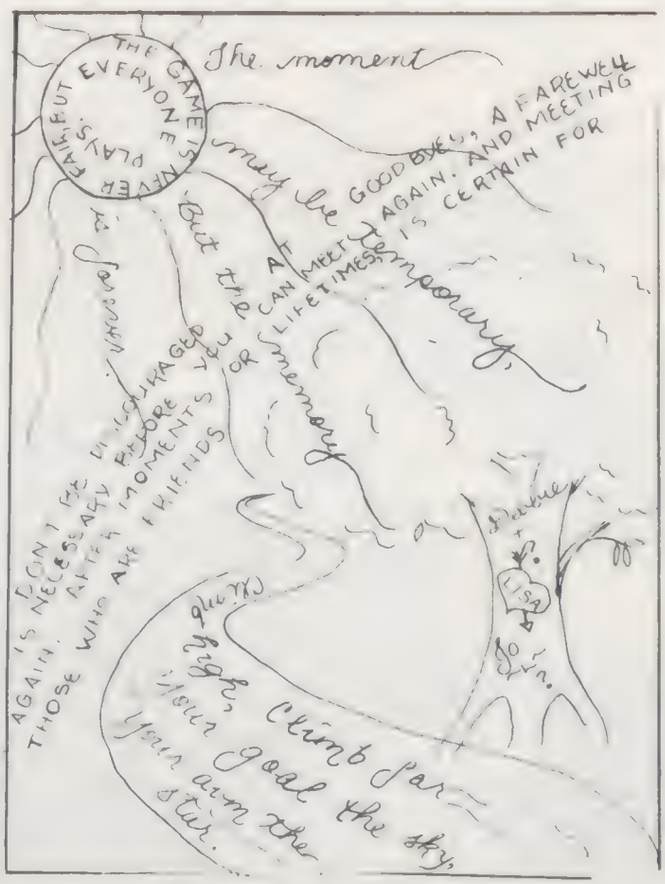
CLASS OF '83 YOU'RE THE BEST

GO FOR IT!



THE GAME IS NEVER OVER, EVERYONE PLAYS FAIR, BUT
The moment must be GOODBYE", A FAREWELL AND MEETING AGAIN. AND MEETING IS CERTAIN FOR
But the memory
AGAIN IS NOT RE-LIGHTED BEFORE YOU OR SOMETIMES AT LEAST IN THOSE WHO ARE AFTER MOMENTS & HIS MINDS
Reach, climb far— your goal the sky, your aim the star.
